ORDER ON PLAINTIFF'S REQUEST FOR INTERLOCUTORY INJUNCTION

The above-styled matter came on for hearing on April 28, 2015. At issue was the Plaintiff's Motion for Interlocutory Injunction. After due consideration of the evidence and arguments submitted, it is hereby ORDERED as follows:

Georgia law provides that where there is a request by a party for entry of an interlocutory injunction, "...a trial court should consider whether: (1) there is a substantial threat that the moving party will suffer irreparable injury if the injunction is not granted; (2) the threatened injury to the moving party outweighs the threatened harm that the injunction may do to the party being enjoined; (3) there is a substantial likelihood that the moving party will prevail on the merits of her claims at trial; and (4) granting the interlocutory injunction will not disserve the public interest. Bishop v. Patton, 288 Ga. 600, 604, 706 S.E.2d 634 (2011)." Grossi Consulting, LLC v. Sterling Currency Group, LLC, 290 Ga. 386, 387-388 (2012).
